

Information on UniCredit Bank's voluntary commitment regarding bank account fees

UniCredit Bank Hungary Zrt. – contributing to the fight against inflation – also joins the voluntary commitment of banks and, in accordance with the request of the Ministry of National Economy, reduces its retail bank account and bank card fees. UniCredit Bank undertakes to counterbalance the inflationary fee increase for retail bank accounts, bank cards and electronic banking services legally applied and introduced on 1 March, 2025. In addition, it undertakes not to pass on any additional costs resulting from inflation and other internal operating cost increases to its customers until 30 June, 2026.
