II. Data controlling guidelines

Definitions

processing: any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction;

data transfer: ensuring access to the data for a predetermined third party.

data processing: performing technical tasks in connection with data processing operations, irrespective of the method and means used for executing the operations, as well as the place of execution, provided that the technical task is performed on the data.

data subject: any natural person directly or indirectly identified or identifiable by reference to specific personal data.

sensitive data: personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinion, religion or beliefs, trade union membership, as well as genetic data, biometric data used for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person, data concerning health or data concerning a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation profiling: means any form of automated processing of personal data consisting of the use of personal data to evaluate certain personal aspects relating to a natural person, in particular to analyse or predict aspects concerning that natural person's performance at work, economic situation, health, personal preferences, interests, reliability, behaviour, location or movements personal data: any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ('data subject'); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person.

Purpose of processing

The purpose of data processing is the particular reason for which the collection, processing and controlling personal data is necessary. The purposes of the data processing cases implemented by the Bank are set out in section II of this Annex.

Processed personal data

The personal data processed by the Bank are set out in section II of this Annex.

Legal basis for processing

The Bank processes personal data only if data processing has a legal basis, that is, if

- a) the data subject has given consent to the processing of his or her personal data for one or more specific purposes,
- b) processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is party or in order to take steps at the request of the data subject prior to entering into a contract,
- c) processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the Bank is subject,
- d) processing is necessary in order to protect the vital interests of the data subject or of another natural person,
- e) processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the Bank,
- f) processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the Bank or by a third party, except where such interests are overridden by the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject which require protection of personal data, in particular where the data subject is a child.

The legal bases for the data processing cases implemented by the Bank are set out in section II of this Annex.

Rights of the data subject

The Bank shall ensure enforcement of the following rights granted to data subjects, also cooperating with the data subjects in exercising their rights:

- a) right to information:
the Bank shall – in line with the principle of fair and transparent data processing – provide the data subject, in compliance with the statutory regulations, with the information stipulated by law,
- b) right of access:
the data subject shall have the right to obtain from the Bank confirmation as to whether or not personal data concerning him or her are being processed, and, where that is the case, access to the personal data and the information specified by law. The Bank shall provide the data subject with a copy of the personal data undergoing processing. For any further copies requested by the data subject, the Bank may charge a reasonable fee based on administrative costs. Where the data subject makes the request by electronic means, and unless otherwise requested by the data subject, the information shall be provided in a commonly used electronic form,
- c) right to withdraw a consent:
if the legal basis for data processing is the data subject's consent, then data subject shall have the right to withdraw his or her consent at any time, although the withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal. After the consent has been withdrawn, the Bank may still process personal data in order to fulfill its legal obligations or to enforce its legitimate interests, provided that the interest enforcement is commensurate with the restriction on the right to personal data protection.
- d) right to rectification:
the data subject shall have the right to obtain from the Bank without undue delay the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning him or her, and to have incomplete personal data completed,
- e) right to erasure:
the data subject shall have the right to obtain from the Bank the erasure of personal data concerning him or her without undue delay, which request may only be rejected in the cases stipulated by law, particularly if data processing is required for compliance with a legal obligation in Union or Member State law to which the Bank is subject, or if this is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. If the data processing is stipulated by law, the Bank may not erase the data subject's data.
- f) right to be forgotten:
this right requires that, where the Bank has made the personal data public and is obliged, pursuant to the right to erasure, to erase the personal data, then the Bank, taking account of available technology and the cost of implementation, shall take reasonable steps (including technical measures) to inform controllers which are processing the personal data that the data subject has requested the erasure by such controllers of any links to, or copy or replication of, those personal data.
- g) right to restriction:
the data subject shall have the right to obtain from the Bank restriction of processing, if
 - the accuracy of the personal data is contested by the data subject (for a period enabling the Bank to verify the accuracy of the personal data),
 - the processing is unlawful and the data subject opposes the erasure of the personal data and requests the restriction of their use instead,
 - the Bank no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but they are required by the data subject for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims, or
 - the data subject objects to the processing, exercising his or her right to object (pending the verification whether the legitimate grounds of the Bank override those of the data subject),
- h) right to information on recipients who are notified of the rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing:
the Bank shall communicate any rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing carried out at the data subject's request to each recipient to whom the personal data have been disclosed, unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort. The Bank shall inform the data subject about those recipients if the data subject requests it.
- i) right to data portability:
if the legal basis for data processing is the data subject's consent or the performance of the contract, and processing is carried out by automated means, the data subject shall have the right to
 - receive the personal data concerning him or her, which he or she has provided to the Bank, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format,
 - and have the right to transmit those data to another controller without hindrance from the Bank,

- and, if technically feasible, they may request that their personal data be transferred directly between data controllers,
- j) right to object:

The data subject shall have the right to object, on grounds relating to his or her particular situation, at any time to processing of personal data necessary in the Bank's or a third party's legitimate interest, or for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the Bank, including profiling. The Bank shall no longer process the personal data unless the Bank demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. If the Bank processes personal data for direct marketing purposes (including profiling), then, in case of the data subject's objection, the personal data may no longer be processed for such purposes. The Bank agrees that the data subject shall have the right to object to his or her personal data for direct marketing purposes, at any time and free of charge,
- k) the data subject's right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing:

the data subject shall have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning him or her or similarly significantly affects him or her. This right shall not be granted to the data subject if the decision:

 - is authorised by Union or Member State law to which the Bank is subject and which also lays down suitable measures to safeguard the data subject's rights and freedoms and legitimate interests,
 - is necessary for entering into, or performance of, a contract between the data subject and the Bank,
 - is based on the data subject's explicit consent.

In the latter two cases the Bank shall grant the data subject the right to obtain human intervention on the part of the Bank, to express his or her point of view and to contest the decision
- l) rights related to audio recordings:

the data subject may request that the audio-recorded phone conversation be replayed or a copy of it be provided to him or her, or, if the object of the conversation is a complaint, the issue of a certified report on the audio-recording.
- m) restriction or prohibition of data transfers within the bank group:

the data subject may, by means of an explicit statement, at any time restrict or prohibit data transfer within the bank group (under Section 164/B of the Credit Institutions Act)
- n) right to judicial remedy:

- o) if the data subject considers that his or her personal data is controlled in breach of the statutory requirements, he or she may file a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority or seek effective judicial remedy. The data subject has the opportunity to contact the Bank's data protection officer before submitting the complaint or referring the matter to the court, and to inform him or her of the problem regarding the Bank's data processing.

Method of submitting the data subject's requests

The data subject may submit his or her requests related to processing

- by post, to the UniCredit Bank Hungary Zrt. 1242 Budapest Pf. 386 address,
- electronically, to the gdpr@unicreditgroup.hu e-mail address,
- by phone, on the +36(1/20/30/70) 325-3200 telephone number,
- personally, at the Bank's branch offices

Handling of the data subject's requests

The Bank shall inform the data subject of the action taken in response to his or her request within one month of receipt of the request submitted by the data subject. This deadline may be extended by two further months. The Bank shall inform the data subject of any such deadline extension within one month of receipt of the request, together with the reasons for the delay.

Where the data subject makes the request by electronic form means, the information shall be provided by electronic means where possible, unless otherwise requested by the data subject.

If the Bank does not take action on the request of the data subject, the Bank shall inform the data subject without delay and at the latest within one month of receipt of the request of the reasons for not taking action and on the possibility of lodging a complaint with a supervisory authority and seeking a judicial remedy.

Decision-making based on profiling

The Bank applies a profiling-based decision making process in the credit assessment, whereby it assesses creditworthiness against pre-defined criteria. In this process, a scoring system is used to process the data submitted during the application process to assess the applicant's willingness to repay and, in the case of an existing customer's application, financial information available to the Bank for a period of no more than 12 months in the form of a behavioural model.

Please note that our Bank monitors transaction data for credit management purposes, in particular with regard to the customer's repayment habits and the arrears of the transaction. The monitoring will include profiling, which may allow the Bank to review or modify the service.

Automated decision-making, including profiling

The Bank performs automated decision-making based on data processing (hereinafter referred to as "automated decision-making") during credit assessment process. In the course of the automated decision making, the Bank shall also carry out an assessment of the personal characteristics of the Applicant (profiling) in the course of the credit assessment in order to assess the risks related to the Applicant's ability to pay, on the basis of which it shall decide whether to conclude the credit agreement or reject the credit application.

During the profiling process, the Bank evaluates the creditworthiness of the Applicant on the basis of pre-defined criteria. The data provided at the time of application is processed in a scoring system to assess the applicant's willingness to repay, and the financial information available at the Bank is also evaluated on the basis of a behavioural model.

The purpose of automated decision making and profiling is to assess creditworthiness, perform risk analysis and evaluation.

As a result of the automated decision-making or profiling, the legal effect for you as Data Subject: conclusion of a credit agreement or rejection of the credit application.

You are informed that you have the right to request human intervention by the Bank against the decision, to express your views and to contest the decision using gdp@unicreditgroup.hu e-mail address.

Profiling for direct marketing purposes

As part of its marketing and offer-preparation activities, the Bank may carry out profiling in order to provide customers with relevant and personalised offers and information.

Profiling is performed by analysing data related to the customer's product usage, service consumption, activity on digital channels, life situation and preferences. Profiling does not result in automated decision-making that would produce legal effects concerning the customer or significantly affect the customer in any similar way.

The processing of personal data for direct marketing purposes, including profiling, is based on the legitimate interest of the Bank.

The data subject may object to such processing at any time on grounds relating to his or her particular situation. In the event of an objection, the Bank will cease processing the personal data for these purposes in relation to the data subject until the objection is withdrawn.

Parties entitled to access data

The employees and agents of the Bank and of any other data controllers and data processors may access data to the extent required for the performance of the functions within their job responsibilities.

Recipients of the personal data

Recipients of the personal data are the data controller's agents and data processors. The parties involved in transferring personal data are listed in section III of these Data controlling guidelines.

Data processors

In relation to data processing, the Bank may use the services of a data processor. In this case the data processor performs processing on the Bank's behalf.

The Bank shall use only data processors providing sufficient guarantees to implement appropriate technical and organisational measures in such a manner that processing will meet the requirements of the statutory requirements and ensure the protection of the rights of the data subject. The processor shall not engage another processor without prior specific or general written authorisation of the Bank. The data processor listed in section IV of these Data controlling guidelines.

The latest list of the data processors and the tasks performed by them will later be available on the www.unicreditbank.hu website and in the information notice available in the Bank's branches.

Data transfer within the bank group: (Section 164/B of the Hpt.)

The Bank and the financial institutions, payment institutions, electronic money institutions, investment firms, insurance companies, AIFMs and UCITS managers they control shall be allowed to exchange the personal data of clients they process, data classified as bank secrets, securities secrets, payment secrets and insurance secrets, and data classified as business secrets to the extent required in connection with their operations and for the provision of their services, in accordance with the standard contract terms of the data processors participating in such shared data processing, and they shall be permitted to transmit such data directly with a view to allowing access to their individual services, and to process the data thus received during the time period for setting up and during the existence of client relationships.

With regard to the Bank and other companies controlled by it, accessing and processing the data referred to above shall be allowed only to companies

- a) such that are pursuing activities:
 - aa) aiming to promote non-cash digital payment services and to provide consumers with such payment methods,
 - ab) aiming to introduce digital applications to support the management of parties who are not consumers,
 - ac) working to improve the financial awareness of consumers and to introduce digital financial means to them,
- and
- b) data processing is performed in the interest of setting up client relations in that context of services.

The current list of companies controlled by the Bank is as follows:

- UniCredit Jelzálogbank Zrt.
- UniCredit Leasing Hungary Zrt.

The client may, based on an express declaration, at any time restrict or prohibit the data transfer described above. Such declaration can be made

- electronically, to the info@unicreditgroup.hu e-mail address,
- by phone, on the +36(1/20/30/70) 325-3200 telephone number,
- personally, at the Bank's branch offices.

Data protection

The Bank protects the controlled personal data by means of technical and organisational measures against unauthorised access, alteration, transfer, public disclosure, deletion or destruction, as well as damage and accidental loss, and ensures that the stored data cannot be corrupted and rendered inaccessible due to any changes in or modification of the applied technique.

For the protection of data sets stored in its different electronic filing systems, the Bank will introduce suitable technical solutions to prevent, unless this is permitted by law, the interconnection of data stored in these filing systems and the identification of the data subjects.

Liability, restitution

The Bank shall be liable for any damages caused to a data subject as a result of unlawful processing or by any breach of data security requirements, and, provided that the infringement has been recognised or established with legally binding effect, it shall pay compensation for damages. In the event of violation of the data subject's personality rights, the data subject may claim restitution (Section 2:52 of the Civil Code). The Bank shall also be liable for damage caused by the data processor whose services it is using. The Bank shall also bear liability for damages caused by a controller that is in a joint controller relationship with the Bank.

The Bank shall be exempt from liability if it proves that it is not in any way responsible for the event giving rise to the damage.

Possibility for seeking judicial remedy or lodging a complaint

Regarding lawfulness of data processing, the data subject can initiate a procedure with the National Authority For Data Protection and Freedom of Information (1055 Budapest, Falk Miksa utca 9-11, postal address: 1363 Budapest, Pf.: 9., website: www.naih.hu, tel.: +36 (1) 391-1400, fax: +36 (1) 391-1410, central e-mail: ugyfelszolgalat@naih.hu) or he/she may take the matter to the court competent in the region where the Bank's head office or his or her (permanent or temporary) residence is located.
